Disclaimer

GS1®, under its IP Policy, seeks to avoid uncertainty regarding intellectual property claims by requiring the participants in the Work Group that developed this document to agree to grant to GS1 members a royalty-free licence or a FRAND licence to Necessary Claims, as that term is defined in the GS1 IP Policy. Furthermore, attention is drawn to the possibility that an implementation of one or more features of this Specification may be the subject of a patent or other intellectual property right that does not involve a Necessary Claim. Any such patent or other intellectual property right is not subject to the licencing obligations of GS1. Moreover, the agreement to grant licences provided under the GS1 IP Policy does not include IP rights and any claims of third parties who were not participants in the Work Group.

Accordingly, GS1 recommends that any organization developing an implementation designed to be in conformance with this Specification should determine whether there are any patents that may encompass a specific implementation that the organisation is developing in compliance with the Specification and whether a licence under a patent or other intellectual property right is needed. Such a determination of a need for licencing should be made in view of the details of the specific system designed by the organisation in consultation with their own patent counsel.

1 New codes in the visual validation extension of the attribute "Packaging marked label accreditation code [M309]"

Since June 2022, attribute-dependent incorrect missing data has been reported as part of the visual validation if the corresponding information is available on the product images/artworks relevant to the visual validation but is not present in the corresponding attribute. This aspect of the visual validation (in the validation direction from the product images/artworks to the data set) is called visual validation extension. The visual validation extension enables a validation of the completeness of data sets in order to approach the goal of the digital twin.

Important: The visual validation extension only applies if information is already present in the respective attribute. Unfilled attributes are still not visually validated by GS1 DQX in this first phase. Further information, e.g. which attributes are currently visually validated by means of the visual validation extension, can be found in chapter 2.2.3.1 of the GS1 DQX Kompendium, available for download at www.gs1.de/dqx.

With release 24.05 in May 2024, 20 new codes were added to the attribute "Packaging marked label accreditation code [M309]". The GS1 DQX PCO Expertengruppe has decided to include the following 20 new codes in the visual validation extension of the attribute "Packaging marked label accreditation code [M309]" in line with the August release 24.08:
