Change log

Version	Date of Change	Changed by	Summary of Change
V2	30.10.2024	Nirusa Naguleswaran	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Error correction in the documentation for the attribute Maximale Abgabemenge an den Konsumenten [M599]. The GDSN Mapping has been extended. The descriptions of several codes in the LocalPackagingMarkedLabelAccreditationCode code list have been shortened. The codes of the target market requirement - 04 in chapter 3.2 Code lists are affected. Obsolete comments have been removed for codes "1" & "2" of the OrganicTradeItemCode code list. Addition of the following important information to the release notes in chapter 3.5 GPC version: Important information on the effects of the GPC standard of May 2024: With BMS Release 3.1.29, GS1.org will remove all GPCs that are no longer valid and the associated registered GTINs (GLN, GTIN, TM, GPC) from the Global Registry. This only affects GPCs that have been deleted in accordance with the GPC standard of May 2024. For you as a data submitter, this means that the affected GTINs are no longer registered in the GS1.org Global Registry. New subscriptions will therefore no longer find these GTINs. It is therefore important that you update your data either before the release - if the replacement GPCs are already defined - or after the release - if the replacement GPCs only become available with the release. A list of the deleted GPC Bricks can be found via the GPC Browser on gs1.org (GPC Browser GS1). The file is also available in the release folder of the November release (Delta - GPC as of May 2024 (Translation in progress) 20240603 v 20231128 EN). The GPC matrix in the validation document (pov_gpc_conditions tab) has also been updated accordingly. The relevant GPCs have been adjusted for many of the validation rules.
V3	07.11.2024	Nirusa Naguleswaran	In chapter 3.3 Validation rules , two of the validation rules were updated to include the respective IDs.
V4	12.11.2024	Nirusa Naguleswaran	Error correction in document POV Validierungsregeln – sheet pov_gpc_conditions. The Errors of header 39 (Geburtsort / Sprache) were corrected.

Disclaimer

GS1®, under its IP Policy, seeks to avoid uncertainty regarding intellectual property claims by requiring the participants in the Work Group that developed this GS1 Document Name GS1 Document Type to agree to grant to GS1 members a royalty-free licence or a RAND licence to Necessary Claims, as that term is defined in the GS1 IP Policy. Furthermore, attention is drawn to the possibility that an implementation of one or more features of this Specification may be the subject of a patent or other intellectual property right that does not involve a Necessary Claim. Any such patent or other intellectual property right is not subject to the licensing obligations of GS1. Moreover, the agreement to grant licences provided under the GS1 IP Policy does not include IP rights and any claims of third parties who were not participants in the Work Group.

Accordingly, GS1 recommends that any organisation developing an implementation designed to be in conformance with this Specification should determine whether there are any patents that may encompass a specific implementation that the organisation is developing in compliance with the Specification and whether a licence under a patent or other intellectual property right is needed. Such a determination of a need for licensing should be made in view of the details of the specific system designed by the organisation in consultation with their own patent counsel.

GS1 Germany GmbH

It started with a simple beep.

In 1974, a barcode was scanned for the first time in a supermarket. This was the beginning of automated checkout - and the start of GS1's success story. The machine-readable GS1 barcode with the included GTIN is now the universal standard in the global exchange of goods and is scanned six billion times a day on products. GS1 standards are the global language for efficient and secure business processes that are valid across company boundaries and continents. As part of a global network, we work with our customers and partners to develop market-driven and future-oriented solutions that directly contribute to their business success. Today, two million companies from over 20 industries worldwide use this language to uniquely identify products, locations and assets, to record relevant data and to share it with business partners in the value creation networks. 1 Introduction

The documentation of the GS1 Germany GDSN Target Market Profile FMCG is revised and published every year in four update cycles.

Section 1.1 Release Planning 2024 presents a detailed overview of the release plan for the current year.

Both release dates for the GS1 Business Message Standard (BMS) and corresponding dates regarding the target market requirements for the German FMCG target market profile are listed. The BMS GoLive date serves as a guideline and orientation point for planning the release dates within the framework of the GS1 Germany GDSN target market profile FMCG in the coming periods.

The documentations affected by the changes are listed in section 1.2 Documentation.

1.1 Release Planning 2024

Note on the February 2025 release (BMS 3.1.30):

There will be no GDSN release for BMS 3.1.30 in February 2024. Target market requirements planned after the November 2024 release will therefore be implemented with the May 2025 release.

With the February 2025 release, CCDQ is planning the DQ version 2.30 as a service release. Only changes to reference tables based on changes in the German target market profile and changes in external databases as well as reactivations are planned.

3.4 Migration

3.4.1 Ecological Product

Last year, GS1 in Europe, in collaboration with the B2B2C Group, produced an EU Organic Guide in accordance with EU Regulation 2018/848. This guide aims to harmonize the European GS1 member organizations in the field of organic production and labelling of organic products. You can find the European guide under the following link: B2B2C – GS1 in Europe.

The German target market profile will also be aligned with this guideline. The chapter on ecological products in our documentation will therefore be adapted accordingly.

These changes will take effect with the release in November 2024.

Significant changes include:

- Ökologische Herkunft [M160] (BMS ID 1248):
 - The code "2" (at least 95% processed products and 100% fresh products) will be used to indicate "organic" for fresh fruit and vegetables.
The definition of the code will be adapted accordingly in accordance with the EU organic guideline: Code "2" = Organic in accordance with the regulation in force for the target market and for the product. E.g., in EU for processed food, when at least 95 % of the agricultural ingredients of the product by weight are organic; 100 % organic for fresh products like fruit and vegetables, meat, fish, eggs, etc.
- Bio-Kontrollstelle [M159] (BMS ID 685):
 - Change of the GDSN mapping to:
farmingAndProcessingInformationModule/
tradeItemOrganicInformation/organicClaim/organicCertification/organicCertificationIdentification
- Bio-Qualitätskennzeichen [M161] & "Ökologischer Artikel: Code der Kontrollinstanz [M485]":
 - Both attributes were deleted.

The changes are also described in the respective tables 3.1 Attributes (target market requirement - 08), 3.2 Code lists (target market requirement - 06) and 3.3 Validation rules (target market requirement - 01 & BMS - 01).

3.4.2 Recyclingcodes

Please note the migration of various old recycling codes from the LCL "LocalPackagingMarkedLabelAccreditationCode" to the attributes "packagingMarkedLabelAccreditationCode" and "packagingRecyclingSchemeCode".

The affected codes are described in the LCL with the following note:

Note: This code is being deprecated and will be removed in May 2025. Please use the code 'RECYCLABLE_GENERAL_CLAIM' in packagingMarkedLabelAccreditationCode [M309] and the recycling code in M598.

The changes are also described in the respective tables 3.1 Attributes (target market requirement - 06) and 3.2 Code lists (target market requirement - 04).

3.5 GPC Version

In this illustration, the GPC version is shown alongside the GDSN release version to which it applies.

The GPC classifies products by dividing them into categories based on their essential properties and their relationship to other products.

Release Planning GPC & GDSN

GPC Publication Date	GDSN Release Number	GDSN Release Type	GDSN Prod Release Date
May 23	3.1.25	Small	18 Nov 23
	3.1.26	Attr. + ECL	24 Feb 24
Nov 23	3.1.27	Large	18 May 24
	3.1.28	Attr. + ECL	17 Aug 24
May 24	3.1.29	Small	16 Nov 24
	3.1.30	Attr. + ECL	22 Feb 25
Nov 24	3.1.31	Large	24 May 25

Detailed information about the added, changed and deleted GPC Bricks can be found in the GS1 Global delta documents at the following link: Maintenance release 3.1.29 | GS1.

Important information on the effects of the GPC standard of May 2024:

With BMS Release 3.1.29, GS1.org will remove all GPCs that are no longer valid and the associated registered GTINs (GLN, GTIN, TM, GPC) from the Global Registry.

This only affects GPCs that have been deleted in accordance with the GPC standard of May 2024.

For you as a data submitter, this means that the affected GTINs are no longer registered in the GS1.org Global Registry. New subscriptions will therefore no longer find these GTINs.

It is therefore important that you update your data either before the release - if the replacement GPCs are already defined - or after the release - if the replacement GPCs only become available with the release.

A list of the deleted GPC Bricks can be found via the GPC Browser on gs1.org (GPC Browser | GS1). The file is also available in the release folder of the November release (Delta - GPC as of May 2024 (Translation in progress) 20240603 v 20231128 EN).

The GPC matrix in the validation document (pov_gpc_conditions tab) has also been updated accordingly. The relevant GPCs have been adjusted for many of the validation rules.
